AZAN AHMAD

Student

Profile

Enthusiastic and dedicated beginner with a strong interest in computer science and web development. While I have foundational skills in Python, HTML5, and general computer use, I am always striving to learn and improve. Passionate about technology, I continuously seek opportunities to expand my knowledge and experience. Eager to take on roles and learn from seniors, I am committed to growing and evolving in the tech field. My curiosity and love for computers drive me to stay updated with new developments and improve my skills every day.
